

WHERE TO SHOP

Every piece in this issue

Each find in this issue links to where we'd buy it. We choose for the aesthetic first and the price second, and we only point you to pieces we would live with ourselves. Where a link leads to a shop, Calm & Oak may earn a small commission if you buy — at no extra cost to you. It never changes what we choose, only whether the lights here stay on.

For the full, always-current edit by room — lighting, storage, ceramics, textiles, furniture and more — visit the shop. For the prints on these walls, the Print Collection. For the frames to hold them, the Frames guide.
