

THE PALETTE

The palest greens

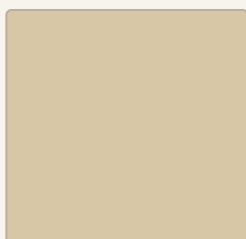

Winter's warm greys lighten rather than leave. The spring palette is the same warm-neutral discipline raised a few tones toward the light — soft white where the greige was, a sage so pale it reads as a neutral, the bleached oak of new wood. One fresh green stem is the whole of the colour. Hold it to that.

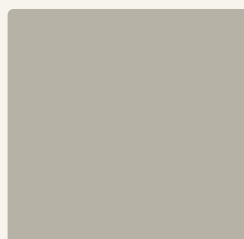

Soft white
#EFEAE0 · walls

Pale sage
#CBCBB8 · linen

Bleached oak
#D8C7A6 · wood

Stone
#B7B2A6 · ceramic

First green
#7C8A6A · the one
stem

"In spring the accent is alive. One branch is the brightest thing a room needs."