

THE THREE LINES

Heaven, humanity, earth

Shin — the tallest, reaching up. Heaven. Cut it to roughly one and a half times the vase's height plus its width.

Soe — the middle, about two-thirds of shin, set at an angle to it. Humanity, the bridge.

Hikae — the shortest, low and forward. Earth, the anchor that keeps the line from floating.

"Three stems, three heights, and the courage to leave the rest as air."
