

THE PALETTE

Ember & ochre

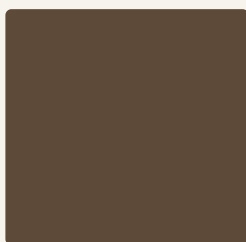

Autumn is the one season to let the warmth off its leash — a little. The single ember of the other issues becomes a small fire: terracotta and ochre allowed to spread, grounded by walnut and a deep, almost-black charcoal so the warmth reads as richness rather than noise. Even now, the rule holds — five tones, no more. The season supplies the rest.

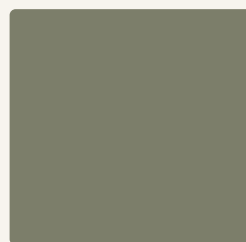

Warm oat
#E3D8C4 · walls

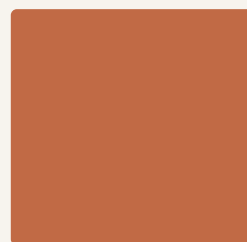

Ochre
#C8A56B · textile

Walnut
#5E4A38 · wood

Dried sage
#7C7E6A · botanical

Ember
#C16A45 · the warm note

"Let the ember spread to a small fire. Then ground it in walnut and stop."